

Super Zula

This summer, a revolutionary Australian-designed seat-bed from Zula provides the ultimate in relaxation. Unique and innovative, it comprises two separate pieces – a seat-bed and a stainless steel frame which hangs on a strong hook. In Sunbrella® fabric, resistant to sun, rain, salt, wind and pollutants, the seat-bed rotates almost 360°, enabling you to swivel with the movement of the sun. The ergonomic design offers comfort and relaxation, allowing a gentle rocking, bouncing, swinging or tilting motion, or the sensation of weightless floating when still. Designed for the residential, resort and spa markets, the product is available in 10 standard colours, with the option to customise with branding.

Introduced last year, the Semi-Precious Collection from Amalgamated Marble gives interiors much more than sentimental value. Available in full format slabs and tiles, the range uses the timeless beauty of semi-precious stones such as Lapis Lazuli, Amethyst, Jasper and Agate, creating an effect more like a natural work of art rather than an ordinary finish. Amalgamated Marble are direct importers of marble, onyx, granite, travertine, limestone and slate sourced from around the world and are consolidating their comprehensive product range with the Semi-Precious Collection.

Rest your head

More than just a bathroom accessory, the 'Pillow' washplane by Fulvio De Nito for NIC Design at Studio Bagno, has the appearance of a ceramic sculpture. The form is organic, almost as if worn by flowing water, sloping gently to create the receptacle. Studio Bagno applies a new and directional European aesthetic for the Australian market, with cutting-edge technologies sourced from Europe. Design and manufacturing collaborations with European companies provide quality products at affordable prices, and Studio Bagno continue the attention to detail, offering consultative and focused relationships with architects and designers. The range is available in a wall or bench option, in white and 12 glazed colours to order.
